EXPO 2010

23. 24. 25 MARCH 2010 | BRUSSELS, BELGIUM

BACKGROUND

Automated people movers (APMs) and personal rapid transit (PRT) transportation solutions have the potential to become two of the cornerstones of urban transit. They are already highly favoured by airports, and have been adopted by them in many parts of the world.

Passenger Terminal EXPO is an 11-year success story. Attracting over 3,500 attendees every year, it has established itself as a key meeting point for the world's airports, airlines, consultants and architects. For more than three years, APM and PRT solutions have been a key part of the conference at Passenger Terminal EXPO, and the 2010 event in Brussels will see the APM/PRT session take centre stage, with additional speakers plus the attraction of Europe's first dedicated exhibition for this sector.

Passenger Terminal EXPO 2010 will launch a pavilion within the main show, dedicated to the presentation of APM and PRT solutions. As part of the process, we will be inviting city and transportation planners to come to an open forum and conference on integrating this emerging transportation form into their strategy.

The pavilion will enable exhibitors to reach an audience of key personnel including: airport directors, airport project leaders, airlines, architects, consultancies and consulting engineers, as well as city and transportation planners. All of them are looking to APM/PRT transport systems to provide an environmentally friendly, sustainable and economic solution.
